Admissions procedures can be complex. Universities take into account not only your standardized test scores, but also your GPA, extra-curricular activities, personal statement, and may leave you with questions such as:

- Which IB/AP subjects should I take?
- How high should my SAT/TOEFL scores be?
- What after-school activities should I participate in?

Cornerstone Institute Consulting can help! Our team of experts will work with you to build up your academic portfolio and help you determine which universities will best match your strengths and future goals.
